GREY'S REPLY

IS APPROPRIATE

London Press Eulogizes His Note to the States.

New York Tribune Supports British View.

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, Feb. 18.—The reply of Sir Edward Grey to the United States shipping protest is given hearty approval in an editorial in the Times, which says:

"It is a powerful defence of the British position, founded upon the arguments of law and fact which are equal with particular force to American minds as to our own. It is completely in line with the policy which the British Government has followed since the outbreak of the war, and it is a proof that Sir Edward Grey has been successful in his aim."

"Let Germany do her worst," says the Times, "she has done the all that she can, because her threats have been so far from being carried out, and she has been forced to resort to the full pressure of her sea power, as it was used in the days of Nelson."

NEW YORK TRIBUNE VIEW.

New York, Feb. 18.—The Tribune this morning says editorially:

"Sir Edward Grey's reply to the United States protest against the American shipping protest is a masterpiece of statesmanship and of logic, and it is a proof that the British Government has been successful in its aim."

GERMAN "BLOCKADE" NOW FULL EFFECT

But British Shipping, Somehow, Does Not Worry.

French Boat Torpedoed—Counter-Stroke Looked For.

London, Feb. 18.—The German proclamation of a maritime war zone about the British Isles has now been in effect since midnight, London time, and the full force of that counter-stroke submarine destruction is supposed to have been loosed in an effort to isolate Great Britain and ruin her shipping campaign.

The Germans, however, did not wait for the onset of midnight to begin their campaign.

Shortly after the destruction of the German submarine, the French steamer Yvette, de Lisle, off Brest, the crew having taken to the sea in the vessel.

A statement by the French Ministry of Marine, announcing this fact contains the information that the submarine, which appeared on the coast of the U. S. and certainly one of the U. S. class, subsequently struck a Norwegian steamer, which was wrecked. This is the first instance in the war of a submarine attack on a neutral ship.

Norway is expected now to supplement the protest by a reference to this definite case.

COMMERCIAL LITTLE AFFECTED.
With these events in the making there is little discernible change in the aspect of British commerce. Some of the steamship lines going to France and the Channel have been ordered to suspend their service to France and Holland, and across the North Sea to the Scandinavian coast.

The principal concession which the British government has made to the German threat is to permit the names and nationality of the ships to be declared, while others to guard against possible errors in judgment on the part of the German submarines.

In a few cases it is probable that the names of the ships will be electrically broadcast.

THREAT TO BE MET.
An announcement of the manner in which Great Britain will meet the German threat has been made. The British government will meet the German threat by a formal blockade of every German ship.

The German submarine, which is not generally expected to produce results at first, British naval circles, admitting that the submarine is a formidable weapon, cannot see how they can do much more than they have been trying to do for many weeks past.

The German military and naval forces are displaying the greatest initiative and vigor, and are taking every possible means to win the war. The first important measure is to cut off the German campaign at midnight.

MILITARY CONTROL COAST.
Virtually all of the coast towns and cities are now under control of the military, who have been ordered to guard the coastline.

The German "blockade" has had no effect upon trans-Atlantic traffic.

England, Ireland and Scotland are now surrounded by an almost solid zone of gunboats and destroyers.
